

WAR RISKS

Advance Owing to Capture of Another Ship

News Created Another Sensation in London Thursday

Czar Yields to Protest of Great Britain--Trouble May be Amicably Adjusted--Rumor of Russian Reverse Reached St. Petersburg.

London, July 21.—A dispatch to Lloyds today states that the British steamship Pack Linz, Captain Lewis, which sailed from Middlesboro on June 18, and from London, July 2, for Yokohama, with a general cargo and several passengers on board, has been captured by the Russians. She sailed from Gibraltar on July 7 and is supposed to have been taken in the Red Sea near where the Malacca was held up. She was a large steamer of 2875 tons burden and is an extremely valuable prize. This news has created a sensation here and war risks which yesterday were but a few shillings are today quoted at Lloyds at ten guineas.

THE MALACCA SAILS.

Port Said, July 21.—The seized P. and O. liner Malacca sailed from here today for Cherbourg en route to Liban, Russia.

RUSSIAN REVERSE.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—(Bulletin)—It is rumored here that the Russian reconnaissance in force in the direction of Matpurinsky Pass has been disastrously defeated by the Japanese. The Russian losses are reported to have been very heavy.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—It is announced that Emperor Nicholas, in an interview with Count Lamsdorf, the foreign minister, expressed his displeasure at the turn events had taken and at possibility of complications with Great Britain, arising out of the detention of British ships by the Russian volunteer fleet steamers in the Red Sea.

This pacific attitude, if the reports be correct, will doubtless lead to an immediate and amicable adjustment of the difficulties.

ENGLAND PROTESTS.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—Sir Charles Hardinge, the British ambassador to Russia, in behalf of his government, presented a strong protest to Russia against the seizure in the Red Sea and detention of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Malacca, which was carrying three hundred tons of British government stores for the naval establishment at Hong Kong, each case of which was marked with the broad arrow, which is the government stamp.

The ambassador also presented a general protest against the action of the Russian volunteer fleet steamers in the Red Sea.

The protest was in the form of a verbal note, made in conformity with telegraphic instructions from the British government. It does not raise the question of the passage of the Dardanelles by vessels of the volunteer fleet, it being understood that Great Britain is reluctant to reopen the question of the Dardanelles, and that she will not do so unless as a last resort.

Russia has reason to believe and contends that the Malacca, in addition to British government stores, had on board munitions intended for Japan.

JAPS DRIVEN BACK.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—The newspaper Novosti prints a dispatch from its correspondent with the Russian column at Tashichoa stating that a large force of Japanese attacked a Russian detachment to the eastward of that place and a sanguinary encounter followed in which the fighting resolved itself into hand-to-hand encounters. The Russians finally drove the Japanese back and succeeded in capturing 10 Japanese guns. They then followed up their advantage and re-occupied all the positions formerly held by the Japs so far east of Saimatse.

ON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, July 21.—There is a serious feeling of depression on the London stock exchange, owing to the admitted nervousness over the Malacca incident. Consols showed a further decline ranging from 1-4 to 5-16.

BRITISH JINGOISM.

Rampant in London Today and Situation is Grave.

London, July 21.—Jingoism is rampant throughout Great Britain today and the Balfour ministry faces a situation which will require the exercising of the most careful diplomacy if the nation is not to be plunged into a war that will involve all of Europe. That a Royal mail steamer should be permitted to sail from a port nominally under British control as a prize of war and with the hated Russian flag flying at her top mast instead of the red standard of England, has so worked on the minds of both the press and the people that practically a unanimous demand for drastic action is being made as showing the temper of the people. A leading editorial in the Times today is a conspicuous example. After referring to the representations made to Russia by the British minister, Sir Charles Hardinge, the Times says: "Could we seriously entertain the supposition that the Russian government will disregard these representations and neglect to release the Malacca without delay, the situation will at once assume a character of extreme gravity. It is best that there should be no misunderstanding on this point. No government could allow the Malacca to be taken to a Russian port or to be condemned, by a Russian prize court. The Russian government must not adhere to an attitude plainly untenable. The situation might at any moment become extremely serious but it can only become serious by Russian government committing an act of injustice and folly of which Englishmen will be sorry to believe them capable."

Russia having failed to release the Malacca and having instead ordered her to proceed to Liban, it would seem that the situation referred to by the Times has arrived.

On the other hand continental circles appear to believe that Russia is entirely within her rights in taking the Malacca to a Russian port for trial by a prize court.

ACTION JUSTIFIED.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—The Novo Vremya, one of the leading newspapers, in a lengthy leading editorial today justified the actions of the volunteer fleet in leaving Russia as merchantmen and being converted into vessels of war on the seas, by citing the character of the steamers of the Nord Deutscher line, which it declares, can be converted into warships at a few hours notice.

"The Petersburg and Smolensk," it continues, "passed through the Dardanelles as volunteer ships, wholly unarmed although their guns were stored in their holds. The outcome of their operations proves conclusively that only British ships are carrying contraband of war to Japan, who thereby derives an enormous advantage. We are going to put an end to this carriage of contraband and all nations must realize this fact."

IN BUFFALO

THE NEXT MEETING OF ELKS WILL BE HELD.

Mr. Robinson of Dubuque, Io., Was Elected Secretary By a Majority of Two Votes.

Cincinnati O., July 21.—A parade said to be ten miles long was the feature of the convention of the fortieth Grand Lodge of Elks. There were more than 15,000 uniformed men in line and many floats and other designs.

While all sorts of entertainments were in progress late in the afternoon and evening, the Grand lodge was having one of the most exciting sessions in its history.

After being in session almost all night, the Grand lodge had elected all of its officers except the grand secretary.

After a hard struggle, Fred C. Robinson, of Dubuque, Iowa, was elected grand secretary by a majority of only two.

When it was announced that Robinson finally had a majority of two over all his friends carried him down the center aisle on a chair and there was a great demonstration.

The claims of Buffalo, Syracuse and other cities were eloquently presented in a series of speeches for the meeting of the grand lodge and the reunion next July. Buffalo was an easy winner on the first ballot as follows: Buffalo, 140; Dallas, 69; Syracuse, 36; Atlantic City, 2.

This morning the "session of sorrow" was held.

The official awards in the band contests gave the first prize, $1,000, for the band of 40 or more men to the Second Illinois Regiment band, of Chicago; second prize, $250, to Robertson's band, Cleveland. For bands of less than 30 members, the first prize, $500, was given to the Baltimore and, and the second to the Buffalo band.

The new officers are:

Grand Exalted Ruler, William J. O'Brien, Baltimore, Md.

Grand Secretary, Fred C. Robinson, Dubuque, Iowa.

Grand Treasurer, John K. Tener, Charlotte, Pa.

Grand Esteemed Loyal Knight, Chas. W. Kauffman, Hoboken, N. J.

Grand Esteemed Lecturing Knight, E. C. Tomlinson, Winston, N. C.

Grand Trustee, B. F. McNulty, San Antonio, Texas.

Grand Tiler, W. W. McClelland, Pittsburgh, Pa.

A TOWN

In South Dakota In the Power of Gamblers and Grafters.

Bonesteel, S. D., July 21.—For twenty-four hours in hands of grafters, the town authorities of Bonesteel capitulated on terms of the lawless element and last night the town was humiliated by detailing policemen to protect gamblers doing business on the streets and open houses. The order of the Bonesteel authorities Tuesday night, that grafters must leave the streets, resulted in the gang of crooks assaulting every policeman, taking clubs and stars from them, and cuffing them out of the way. The town authorities appealed to the state and federal governments without avail and finally were compelled to make terms with the gamblers.

RELEASE REPORTED.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—It is reported here that the government ordered the release of the steamer Malacca should search of her cargo show that "no contraband of war is on board."

CABINET MEETS.

London, July 21.—The cabinet met this afternoon to consider the incident in connection with the seizure of the Malacca.

For some maladies physicians recommend yawning. They say that muscles are brought into play during a yawn that would otherwise never get any exercise at all.

GAINING DAILY

The Strength of Judge Parker—Will Carry New York By Big Majority.

Washington, July 21.—"Parker will carry New York state by a big majority," is the prediction made with confidence and enthusiasm by Representative Henry M. Goldtogle, of New York City. The Representative came to Washington upon political business with the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. Afterward speaking of the New York situation he said:

"New York will surprise the nation by the majority the Democrats will roll up for Judge Parker next November. The presidential candidate is immensely popular in the big city and his popularity is growing daily, too. It will be the first time the people of the state have had an opportunity to vote for a man of sound business and political judgment since 1892. We will all so have the opportunity of supporting not only an Eastern man, but a resident of our state. Everything combines to foreshadow a rousing Democratic victory in the Empire State."

"The Democratic vote in New York City will easily be sufficient to overcome the Republican vote up state. Judge Parker will be polling a few votes up state himself while the Roosevelt enthusiasts are at work, and I firmly believe the Republican ticket will come down to the Bronx this year with the smallest plurality of any set of candidates for many years past. There are daily evidences of Judge Parker's increasing strength throughout the state."

"The people are flocking to his standard. Where there was doubt prior to the convention and for a part of the time the national assemblage was in session, there is now nothing but confidence. The Democrats are going into the fight with an enthusiasm that has not been known for many years. They confidently believe they are going to win and will leave no stone unturned to realize their hopes."

ROBBERS

BLEW UP A WHOLE BUILDING IN IOWA.

While Trying to Enter a Bank Safe—Posses Are Now In Pursuit of the Two Burglars.

Davenport, Io., July 21.—Pouring a pint of nitroglycerine into the cracks of the doors of the safe of the new State Bank at East Moline, Ill., this morning, two robbers set off the explosive, with the result that the entire bank building was destroyed. The wrecked safe had been installed only last week. The robbers secured no money according to the bank officials. The roar of the explosion aroused the citizens, but they were not in time to stop the fleeing burglars who escaped in a buggy. Posses were organized and immediately set in pursuit. Every sheriff in Illinois and Eastern Iowa has been notified and the capture of the men is expected before nightfall, as one robber is thought to have been seriously injured in the demolition of the building.

GLAZNER HANGED

Pittsburg, July 21.—Nicholas Glazner, 44, was this morning executed in the county jail and for the murder of Margaret Hall, a servant girl, with whom he had kept company for some time. Glazner was employed as a street car conductor. He leaves a widow, who has for many years been an invalid, and several children.

Havre, July 21.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick, released from custody in England yesterday, arrived here this morning and proceeded at once to Rouen.

JURY DISAGREED.

Jameson, N. Y., July 21.—The jury in the case of Wm. D. Dinn, the Dayton, Ohio, postal clerk, charged with stealing money from the mail, came into court at 1 o'clock this morning and reached a disagreement. The jury was discharged.

MR. FOLK

IS NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR OF MISSOURI.

Ballot Taken Early Thursday Morning and Made Unanimous—Folk Given an Ovation.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 21.—At 3:40 this morning Joseph W. Folk, of St. Louis, was nominated for governor by the Democratic state convention. The ballot stood: Folk, 551; Hawes, 114; Reed, 46. The nomination, on motion of Mr. Hawes, was made unanimous. Mr. Folk was escorted into the hall and appeared on the speaker's stand. The applause which greeted him exceeded that given Mr. Bryan at St. Louis.

Last night's session of the Democratic state convention will go down in history as one of the most memorable in the history of Missouri politics. When the convention adjourned at 4:20 this morning it was to meet at 10 o'clock this morning.

The night session was to have begun at 8 o'clock, but at that hour the credentials committee was still wrestling with the St. Louis contests and nothing could be done. Meanwhile the hall, which seats about 1,200, became crowded with about 2,000. The heat was terrific and several women fainted. At 12:20 a. m. the permanent organization took charge of the convention. Judge W. W. Graves, permanent chairman, was given an enthusiastic reception.

The platform as finally agreed on and containing the boodle plank was read and adopted.

At 1:40 a. m. nominations for governor were begun. At 3:40 the first ballot was taken and resulted in Folk's nomination.

After a brief address by Mr. Folk a touching scene was enacted. Turning toward Mrs. Folk, who had sat on the speaker's platform all during the night, the nominee advanced toward his faithful and happy mate and, gathering her in his arms, kissed her.

The first order of business at today's session of the convention, which bids fair to be the last session, was the nomination of a candidate for lieutenant governor. Thomas L. Rabey was nominated without opposition.

SAYS HE USED DOPE.

Coshocton, O., July 21.—The village of West Lafayette is stirred over the arrest of Thomas Shaw on complaint of Rev. George Rainberger, charging him with furnishing liquor to get Town Marshal Peter Johnson drunk, and with doping the liquor so that Johnson's life was for a time despaired of. Johnson is a reformed drinker and active in temperance work.

ALLIANCE

Between a Labor Union and a Beer Trust.

Washington, July 21.—The unusual spectacle is presented here today of a labor organization allying itself with a "trust" in an effort to raise the price of a commodity.

The local stationary firemen's union has ordered a strike at the Heinrich Brewing company because that concern has refused to increase the price of beer two dollars per barrel.

The strike is the result of an agreement entered into between the Central Labor union and the Brewers' association, the latter being a combination of all the local breweries, with the exception of the Heinrich company. The Heinrichs have been fighting the "trust" by raising the price of beer. The union people allege that unless the Heinrichs raise their price $2 per barrel, two or more of the local breweries in the "trust" will be forced to quit business, thus throwing a large number of union men out of work.

On the other hand, the Heinrichs claim that raising the price of beer will force 300 or more saloonkeepers out of business with a consequent loss of work for their employees.

The Heinrichs threaten to proceed against the Brewers' association and the labor organizations under the Sherman anti-trust law, alleging a combination in restraint of trade and conspiracy to prevent competition.

STRIKE SETTLED

Packers Agree to Arbitrate All Differences.

By Friday Morning Men Will All be at Work in the Stock Yards.

Each Side Agrees to Abide by Decision of the Judges--Full Text of the Agreement Made by the Union Men and Meat Packers.

Chicago, July 21.—The strike of packing house employees begun nine days ago, and which has demoralized the packing industry throughout the country, was settled here last night at a conference between representatives of the packers, the officials of the Meat Cutters' union and representatives of all the allied trades employed at the stock yards.

The whole controversy will be submitted to a board of arbitration, both sides agreeing to abide by whatever decision this board may reach.

Pending the decision of the arbitration board the men will be taken back to work as rapidly as possible by the packers, and it is agreed by the packers that all the old employees are to be reinstated within 45 days after work is resumed. If any of the former employees are still unemployed at the expiration of that time, such persons are to have the privilege of submitting their cases to arbitration board for settlement.

The strikers will return to work as soon as they can be notified of the peaceable adjustment of the trouble, and it is expected that by Friday morning everything will be in normal shape at all the plants in the different cities where the employees were on strike.

The settlement of the difficulty by arbitration was brought about by the allied craft at the stock yards, who would have become involved in the controversy had it continued much longer. The representatives of these unions, which represent about 11,000 men, sent a final appeal to the packers asking for a three-day conference between the packers, the strikers and themselves in a final effort to get both sides of the controversy together again and arrange some sort of agreement which would prevent the strike spreading to the affiliated unions.

This appeal of the allied trades unions received a favorable response from the packers and the conference was the result. The agreement entered into between the representatives of the packers and the strikers follows:

"Wages and working conditions of all employees now on strike to be submitted to arbitration, each party to this agreement having the privilege of bringing before the arbitrators for decision any question of wages, or conditions, or any other grievance, they may have and both to abide by the decision of the arbitrators. The packing companies signing this agreement to retain all employees now at work who wish to remain, and will re-employ all employees now out as fast as possible without discrimination. Employees to return to work at the wages received when going on strike, pending the decision of the arbitrators; arbitrators to consist of three practical packing house men, to be selected as follows:

"One representative of the packing companies, one representative of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen of North America; these two to select a third member. The two first named shall meet within 48 hours after resumption of work, prepared to elect the third member, and shall meet daily for that purpose until this duty has been completed. When the third member has been selected the three shall meet daily, unless adjournment be had by unanimous consent, until the final conclusion has been reached and the award made. Any former employee not re-employed within 45 days from date work is resumed to have the privilege of submitting his or her case to arbitration, on question of

CHICAGO POLICEMAN FATALLY HURT THURSDAY.

Disturbance Was Caused By Dog-Catchers Seizing a Cur—Police Fired at the Mob.

Chicago, July 21.—In a riot in the Ghetto district this morning Police Patrolman Patrick Billis, was probably fatally injured and many others hurt. The disturbance was occasioned by two dog-catchers, who had captured a cur and were about to load it into the wagon when set upon by a number of Jewish inhabitants. One of the men telephoned three police stations for assistance and wagon loads of officers dashed to the scene and charged the mob which had grown to huge proportions and was beating up the dog-catchers. The attack was returned and Patrolman Billis' skull fractured with an ice pick. The police opened fire on the crowd, wounding Isaac Cohn and Wolf Kalford seriously, and a number of others. The mob scattered, taking the wounded to nearby houses which the police searched in making arrests.

A Missing Big BILL.
Nearly fifteen years ago a man entered the First National bank of Denver and walked into the office of David H. Moffatt, the president of the bank. He had a bottle in his hand that he said contained nitroglycerin and threatened to blow up the bank unless he was given a large sum of money. Mr. Moffatt sent for the money, and among the bills was one of $10,000 denomination. Recently the government called in all the $10,000 bills, and the one given by Mr. Moffatt is the only one that has not been presented for redemption. No trace of the man who got the money was ever found.

Sir Thomas Ready to Challenge.
Our yachting correspondent on the Clyde states, on authority, that the negotiations between Sir Thomas Lipton and the New York Yacht club are likely to be brought to a successful issue, in which case a challenge for the America's cup will be given for next year. The question of designer is not altogether free from difficulties; but, the main point once settled, these difficulties will doubtless disappear. Not only will the new measurements rule if the New York Yacht club produces a better type of boat, but it will also add considerably to the chances of the challenger.—London Standard.

addition to this, years of recorded experience and soundings, borings and surveys, flood measurements, rain gauges, labor experiments and experiments with machines are turned over by the French in minute and painstaking charts and books.

"I am also asked what about the condition of the property bought from the French. At first that seemed to me deplorable, wrecks of dump trains and digging machines strewing the line of the canal in sorrowful abandonment. But the case is not so bad. The buildings for workmen and officials, nearly all in fine condition, are very numerous and would cost a large sum to replace and in many buildings are locomotives by the hundreds which are either fit for use or, as experiments show, can easily be made so. It is true that some of the machines are not of the latest and best types and will be used little or not at all.

"Then I am asked about the climate and sanitary matters. I want to be careful in speaking of these, since I do not desire to be responsible for alarming those who would work on the canal or, on the other hand, responsible for the death of persons who may go there. I had the advantage of living with the principal medical officer then on the ground (Colonel Gorgas and other sanitarians arrived as I was leaving), who had had a year and a half towns are in similar extremity, with the outlook for their replenishing not so promising as it might be. Night in those towns and regions lasts all winter when it sets in, and lack of oil would be a situation not to be thought of with anything like composure. War risks on shipments there in Hamburg and London are 20 guineas per cent, the underwriters still not thinking there is high enough. What little business is being done in war risks to Japanese ports shows no advance in rates, the situation in that country as to provisioning being comparatively favorable in fact, about as good as it is on an average.

Millionaire Laborers.

The packing plants of Nebraska at Omaha recently had a number of millionaire workmen laboring ten hours at the union scale of 19 cents per hour, says the New York World. Edward I. and Joseph Cudaby, sons of Richard Cudaby of the Cudaby Packing company, and Mark Morton, son of J. Sterling Morton and brother of Secretary of the Navy Paul Morton, worked as laborers to keep the plants going. They will continue at the task until the strike is declared off. Edward Cudaby cut hogs all day, while Joseph trimmed hams. Mark Morton shoveled coal in the boiler room of the City Packing company at Nebraska City.

maintaining undiscovered until they had emerged.

Here is another of the innumerable stories of Kruger: A question about a division of some property as to which two brothers had a dispute was referred to him and it was agreed that his judgment should be accepted. After hearing both sides said he to the elder one: "I decide that you, being the senior, shall have the dividing of this property; but," he added, with a twinkle in his eye, "I also decide that your brother shall have his choice of the two portions!"

It is said that Kruger had a rare appreciation of a joke, and before the outbreak of the late war, when he was called upon at the government buildings in Pretoria by some back country Boers, he requested them to blow out an electric lamp, says the New York Press. One after another tried and failed. Then Oom Paul bade them look, and, blowing out his cheeks, slightly turned the switch, blew, and out went the light. The Boers were amazed, and as they left the buildings one of them who had been more observant than the rest, remarked: "The president must have a wonderfully strong breath, for did you notice the light was entirely inclosed in glass?"

JUDGE PARKER'S VISITORS.

Esopus, N. Y., July 21.—John B. McDonald's steam yacht Sapphire, which dropped anchor off Rosemont last night, sailed for New York at 8 o'clock this morning. On board the Sapphire were her owner, Mr. Belmont and Justice Morgan J. O'Brien of the supreme court.

Upon the invitation of Mr. McDonald, Judge Parker and his brother, Frederick, took dinner on the Sapphire last night and afterward lolled about the deck in conversation until after midnight. Then Judge Parker and his brother were rowed back to Rosemont. Mr. McDonald and Justice O'Brien declining an invitation to sleep at the house.

The conference on board the yacht last night was politically tinged and ways and means were undoubtedly discussed, but Justice O'Brien's visit was purely a social one.

The chief judge and the justice are close friends. Excepting Wm. F. Sheehan, Justice O'Brien is more intimate with the nominee than any other man. But he is not a political advisor, and while Judge Parker undoubtedly laid bare his plans and hopes last night, there were no comments or suggestions in return.

AT THE RANGE

NAMES OF STATE TEAM TO BE ANNOUNCED FRIDAY.

The Conditions in Camp Are Now Perfect and Officers Are Pleased With the Results.

Wednesday's shooting at the state rifle range was the best that has yet been done.

The chief event was the regimental team championship shoot at 600 yards. The results were as follows:

Engineers, total, 367; First regiment, 402; Second, 513; Fourth, 513; Fifth, 357; Sixth, 414; Seventh, 479; Eighth, 448.

In company competition engineers had 57; H of Second, 64, and B of Seventh, 63.

Others were M of Sixth, 55; H of First, 41; L of Fourth, 52; A of Sixth, 37; I of Sixth, 50; A of Second, 47.

In 300-yard novice, J. E. Murray of Battery A had 46 out of 50.

Thursday is the last day of the shoot, and the state team members will be selected Friday.

The weather and atmospheric conditions are perfect, hardly a breath of wind interfering with the marksmen's aim.

The officers are much pleased with the results of the meeting, as better scores than ever before are being made. The range is to be improved so as to conduct next year's rifle practice on a still larger scale.

ROYAL

SCANDAL CAUSED TROUBLE IN THE SPANISH COURT.

Father of King Alfonso Had Two Sons Whose Mother Was the Famous Singer, Ellen Sanz.

Madrid, July 21.—A royal scandal is causing trouble at the Spanish court. The father of King Alfonso had two sons whose mother was the famous singer, Ellen Sanz, and wrote her several letters admitting the paternity. After his death Queen Christina bought the letter and granted a small annuity to the boys. They are now respectively 26 and 19 years old and have made a demand on King Alfonso for an increase in their allowance asserting that they have further compromising letters, which they threaten to make public should their demands not be granted. Some time ago they retained Senor Melguades, a Republican member of the chamber of deputies, to prosecute their claim against the royal family in the civil courts. He, however, has now withdrawn from the case. King Alfonso is said to be anxious to compromise any public action by granting the original demands, but this course is strenuously opposed by Queen Christina, who insists that the youths receive no further financial aid. Both young men are declared to be remarkably like the late king.

One important fact that stands out plainly in this campaign is that Judge Parker is eminently more satisfactory to all Democrats than Roosevelt is to all Republicans.

Secretary Shaw in his Chicago speech repeated that $4,000,000 worth of American merchandise is annually sold abroad cheaper than at home. He merely left out two ciphers—a typographical error. Steel rails are sold here for $28, but are offered in Europe for $20 per ton. Our manufactured exports average over $400,000,000 a year, and almost all of them are sold abroad cheaper than at home.

Republican Imperialistic Doctrine

The following language occurs in the Republican platform relating to the Philippines:

By our possession of the Philippines we were enabled to take prompt and active action in the relief of the legation at Peking and a decisive part in preventing the partition and preserving the integrity of China.

In other words, the Philippines must be retained as a spring-board from which the United States can leap from time to time into the arena of Asiatic policies and wars.

We are an Eastern as well as a Western empire now, and nothing that promises to get us into trouble is foreign to us.

There can be no mistaking the sinister meaning of the Republican platform or the attitude of the Administration. The imperialistic elements of the party regard the Philippines not only as a province to govern, but as a base of operations from which to push our way into the Eastern continent. The Administration is already committed to the theory of extending our Oriental trade at the point of the layonet—which is the real significance of Mr. Hay's open-door policy.

The Republican platform shows that the party is only waiting for new opportunities almost certain to come when the inevitable Asiatic concert is called to decide the questions of supremacy growing out of the war between Russia and Japan. The balance Roosevelt's big stick in the West we must have a big stick in the East. Meanwhile the doctrines of the Declaration of Independence are indefinitely suspended.

B. B. GAUMER

TO BECOME EDITOR AND MANAGER OF MARYSVILLE PAPER

With an Uncle Mr. Gaumer Buys This Paper Taking Charge Aug. 1—From a Newspaper Family.

Bruce B. Gaumer, who has been with The Advocate for almost the past two years, and an uncle, J. S. Cone, of Coshocton, have purchased the Union County Journal, published at Marysville, from A. J. Hare and will take possession of the property the first of August. Mr. Gaumer will be the editor and manager of The Journal and will shortly leave for his new home in Marysville.

The Journal is the organ of the Democratic party in Union county and in Marysville and is published weekly. Under the control of the new firm The Journal will doubtless be Democratic at all times and in all things. Mr. Gaumer comes from an old newspaper family and is not unknown in Marysville.

Two uncles, Hon. C. N. Gaumer, of Mansfield, and the late ex-Senator D. H. Gaumer, of Zanesville, were the owners of the Mansfield Daily Shield and the Zanesville Signal respectively. His father was also engaged in the newspaper business, being the publisher of the Urbana Democrat until the time of his death some years ago. Two brothers are also the publishers of Democratic newspapers in Ohio. F. C. Gaumer is the editor of the Urbana Democrat and C. E. Gaumer is the owner and editor of the Middletown Daily Signal.

Mr. Gaumer will carry with him to his new home the good wishes of The Advocate and a large number of friends in Newark, who will wish him unlimited success. Mr. Gaumer has done good work in Newark. He is an energetic young man, capable and ambitious. He will make The Journal grow.

Are too great a strain on the kidneys.

Backache, headache, sideache,

Kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

A Newark citizen tells you how to cure them all.

Mrs. J. T. Purcell, 345 Schuler St., says: "My back ached all the time. As a rule it was very severe, but hurt me much more when I over-exerted myself or occupied certain positions in which my back was strained considerably or when I was sitting sewing."

I obtained little benefit from the treatment which I took so little, in fact, that I was induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills when Crayton Bros. first advertised them in Newark. They did for me what others failed to do, for they took away from my back that distressing pain and ache. I know of friends of mine who were as much the gainers through their use as I."

Three Per Cent Dividend.

At the regular meeting of the directors of the Citizens Building Association held Wednesday night, a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent. was declared and ordered placed to the credit of each share of stock. This meant that each customer of the Citizens will be paid in cash or have his loan stock credited with a 3 per cent dividend, no more nor less. The condition of the Citizens is very prosperous, and homebuilders should investigate its liberal plans. 14d7t.

In France old shoes are bought up in large quantities by leather dealers and sold to factories. There they are taken apart and submitted to long processes, which turn them into paste, from which the material is transformed into imitation leather, finally coming out in a form which very closely imitates the finest morocco.

TWO TYPICAL AMERICANS.

(New York World.)

The two national Democratic candidates represent two types of citizenship radically different and yet each characteristically American.

Judge Parker, like his colleague, began life as a farmer's boy. But his aspirations were all intellectual. He never thought of money-making except incidentally. He wanted to go to college, but gave up that ambition to help his father. He taught school when sixteen years old, worked his way through the State Normal School at Cortland, studied law and "hung out his shingle." That used to be the main travelled road to statesmanship in this country.

Though possessed of a natural talent for political management, Judge Parker's bent was judicial. The only offices he desired or could be persuaded to accept were judgeships. He began as Surrogate, then advanced to the State Supreme Court, and then to the Court of Appeals. Gradually the power of his personality impressed itself upon the men who were looking for a party leader. He was urged to be a candidate for Governor, and for two years he has been looked upon as the probable candidate of the Democracy in the Presidential campaign.

Yet his way of life has not been in the least disturbed. He remains a simple country gentleman, a neighbor among neighbors, a leader in the little village activities, passing the "contrition box" in church and showing strangers to their seats on the morning after his nomination to the highest office on earth—modest, unaffected—just the sort of figure we can imagine to have been at home in Washington when Jefferson was buying Louisiana.

That is one kind of American career. Mr. Davis has pursued another kind—that of business. Starting like Judge Parker, on a farm, he left it to go to work on a railroad. It was a distinct upward step in life for him when he secured an opportunity to twist a brake, and when he was promoted to the position of a station agent no doubt he felt more pride than he feels now in a nomination to the vice presidency. He advanced step by step until he owned railroads instead of working upon them, owned banks and mines, and accumulated more millions than Judge Parker has thousands. Incidentally he went to the senate.

A thoroughly American career, like the other. Both Judge Parker and Mr. Davis are self-made men. Each has made the best of himself with the material at hand. Each has been successful in his own way. Each has furnished an illustration of the truth of Garfield's saying that "the Republic is Opportunity."

FEARLESS FIGHTERS

POLAR BEARS ARE CUNNING AND FURIOUS IN BATTLE.

The Way One of These Arctic Terrorists Handled Six Assassins—Daring of Eskimo Hunters—How the Bears Catch and Worry the Seals.

When a winter is unusually severe in Baffin Land and Labrador the polar bears wander off among the ice floes in greater numbers than usual in quest of seals, upon which they chiefly feed, and on these occasions the crews of the Newfoundland sealing fleet have many encounters with these monsters.

When he is well fed the polar bear is easily worsted, but if hungry he fights with fury. Hence encounters with bears are not sought unless riflesmen are included in the party, but sometimes there is no alternative. On one occasion several men armed only with seal clubs had to fight an old male bear.

One man thought he saw a seal behind a hummock and started off after it, a second following him. Just as the first topped the hummock he raised his club and struck, when to his horror he found he had hit a polar bear over the snout. The bear turned on him with an angry growl and would have dismembered him with a single stroke if the second man had not got in and hit him on the snout also. This blow hit stunned him, and he fell backward into a small hole of water.

Still, though dazed, he struggled to get out, and so there was nothing for it but to fight him, and this the men did successfully, the whole seven joining in the struggle. Yet he broke one man's ankle, lacerated another's thigh and splintered the arm of a third man before he gave in. His skin and fat weighed 400 pounds and his carcass probably as much more, so that he was as bulky as a small horse.

On another occasion there was a fierce fight, within full view of a ship's crew, between a bear and six men. Bruin had been asleep for the night on a small pan of ice and was awakened in the early morning by the sound of the steamer's whistle, blown to call her crew to their day's toil. The bear, aroused from slumber, raised himself on his hind paws with a mighty growl, as if in challenge to the ship. His defiance was accepted in this sense by six young seamen, who promptly made at him with only their clubs.

The bear was unable to leave the small pan he was on, owing to six enemies assailing him, and so he had to fight it out there. He made a game defense, too, notwithstanding all attacks of his adversaries. One of these struck at him with a club, but he reared up, caught it in his mouth and jerked it from the owner's hand, and, shaking it as a terrier would a rat, hurriedly banged the owner with it and felled him senseless with a blow over the head. The other assailants he kept off also in the same way, and it was not till a man came from the ship with a rifle and put four bullets through him that he showed any weakening. At last he became dazed, and a well directed blow on the snout stunned him, while a shower more apparently killed him.

A rope was lashed around his body and he was swung up by the ship's winch to be got on board, but just as he came over the rail the rope broke and he disappeared from view in the water. The cold bath revived him, for in about five minutes he was seen to emerge in a blowhole in a floe, and, after two or three painful attempts, laboriously climbed on to a high pan. Three men were at once dispatched after him, and he was stunned, stabbed to the heart and then dragged to the ship to be skinned. He was nearly nine feet long and twelve feet in largest girth, and was altogether a formidable adversary.

Men who go to the seal fisheries for the sport or experience as passengers in the ships of the fleet usually derive their keenest enjoyment from stalking polar bears, as it is quite a novel form of big game hunting. The scene is the great floating ice field, and from hummock to hummock and berg to berg the hunter will dog his prey until a lucky shot will enable him to bring down the victim.

Sealing captains will never let their guests go off unattended on such a mission, but send a couple of expert riflemen with them, as at times Mr. and Mrs. Bear and their offspring may be at home on the floe, and they would be rather too formidable a combination for the inexperienced hunter.

The Eskimo of Greenland and Baffin Land are notable bear hunters. The Eskimos have trained their dogs to run the creatures down and torment them until they can come up themselves and give the quivers with lance or gun. The daring of the Eskimo hunters is great, and they will attack the infuriated bear the moment they come within striking range.

In northern Labrador they are also to be got in goodly numbers. One season a Newfoundland fishing skipper found two of them entangled in his nets in O'Brien harbor, at the entrance to Ungava bay, and was able to kill them with but little trouble. Another skipper sighted a third and sent two men in a boat after him, but their first shot only wounded the brute, and he made back at them, upset and tore apart their boat and badly gashed one of the men before the schooner ran down and poured a whole battery of bullets into him.

The Hudson Bay company's factors are always keen to secure skins of this white water bear. Last year one station secured fourteen of these skins, the largest of which measured thirteen feet and brought $15 at the company's annual auction in London. Another station, Nakvak, the most northern and therefore the best situated for them, collects about sixty a year. About 400 bears are killed along Labrador every twelve months.

These bears are extraordinarily cunning. They catch seals in exactly the same way as the Eskimo, by waiting at a blowhole, having first built up a little wall around it. They show cleverness almost human in grasping a seal when it comes up to breathe and transferring it to the ice.

If the bear is not hungry he will play with the seal just as a cat does with a mouse, patting it till it wriggles away, catching it again, tossing it into the air and torturing it in various ways, but always keeping between it and the blowhole, and eventually killing it by jumping on it with all four paws.

The bears also will wait, nose down, against the floe by which seals, narwhals and even white whales swim, and when one of these will rise to breathe, spring upon it like a cat on a sparrow, hugging and tearing it to death in the water and eventually dragging it up on the ice, to be devoured at leisure. When no better food offers they subsist on some of the innumerable diving birds that abound in northern seas. The bear will immerse himself in the water where the birds are swimming, and then, sinking beneath it, will leave only the black nose visible, up to which the unwitting bird swims, only to find itself a victim to his maw.

It is while abroad on the ice that the bears are carried off by adverse winds and swept south to perish of starvation. On one occasion the steamship Hanover, crossing the Grand banks on the way to Baltimore, sighted an iceberg on which were moving objects first thought to be human beings, but subsequently seen to be six polar bears. They had been ferried hundreds of miles from their arctic home and were doomed to perish by drowning or hunger. Similar scenes are often witnessed by the crews of vessels fishing on the Grand banks.

On another occasion two castaway fishermen from one of the ships on the banks pulled forward an iceberg to get some fragments to melt into drinking water, but found it tenanted by a starving polar bear, which plunged into the sea and made after them on catching sight of them. They had to row their boat to escape, as these bears can swim as well as seals, and it was only when he saw he could not reach them that he returned to his lonely eyrie, bellowing forth hoarse growls of rage the while.—St. John's (N. B.) Cor. Detroit Tribune.

THREE FAMOUS PIONEERS.

Pen Pictures of Daniel Boone, Davy Crockett and Kit Carson.

In his book, "The Way to the West," Emerson Hough gives sketches of three famous pioneers. Of Daniel Boone he says: "Boone was neither a tall nor a thin man. He was not angular or bony. His frame was covered not with cloying fat, but with firm and easily playing muscles, and he carried none of the useless tissue of the man of civilization. His weight was 'about 175 pounds.' Audubon, who met him late in his life, says: 'He approached the gigantic in stature. His chest was broad and prominent and his muscular powers were visible in every limb. His countenance gave indication of his great courage, enterprise and perseverance.' Yet in person Boone did not quite reach the six foot mark, but was just below five feet ten inches in stature, some say five feet eight inches, being therefore of exactly that build which good judges of men esteem to be most desirable for combined strength, activity and endurance. He was rather broad shouldered; that is to say, his shoulders nicely overhung his hips. I'll agree that he was of 'robust and powerful proportions.'"

Davy Crockett when he was first elected to congress is described as a "finely proportioned man, about six feet high, forty-five years of age, of very frank, pleasing and open countenance." He was dressed in homespun and wore a black fur cap on his head when seen by a traveler who called at his house. Going thus into public life, he began to show "an unusual strength of mind and a memory almost miraculous." Uncultured, ignorant, terribly handicapped by lack of training and opportunity, he overcame it all. In Washington he won national popularity. "We see in the Crockett of 1834," says Hough, "a figure not approached by any other American statesman so nearly as by that other rugged westerner, Abraham Lincoln."

Kit Carson was a grandson of Daniel Boone and was born in 1805. Hough describes him as follows: "Five feet six, with twinkling, blue-gray eyes, a large and well developed head, with hair sandy and well brushed back. Kit Carson at his best was the reverse of impressive. He was simple, peaceable and quiet in disposition, temperate and strictly moral in a time and place when these qualities made one a marked man. Yet throughout the length and breadth of the Indian country this little man was more feared; single and alone, than any other trapper or Indian fighter in all the west. He was respected as well as feared."

Poetry. Poetry does not mean only the clothing of beautiful thoughts in harmonious language; it means also the spiritualizing of life, the tingeing every common object with the warm sunshine of sympathy and love. Just as on rainy days the slush and grimy mud are swept away and put on one side, so the unshiny nature will naturally dismiss all mean and sordid thoughts and turn to what is true and noble and pure, as "the sunflower turns to the face of its god."

IN A WAGON

AGED MINISTER AND WIFE TAKE A LONG JOURNEY.

Life in the Open Air Has Restored Rev. Mr. Harrison to Health—Meetings Held in Newark.

Wednesday afternoon the attention of nearly everyone about the public square was attracted to a peculiar looking wagon, built along the general lines of an emigrant wagon, which bore the legend on either side in large letters:

"The Gospel Wagon. An aged couple on a long journey from New York to Atlanta and return. Potato peelers 10 cents each. Please buy one."

The aged couple who are now on the return journey from Atlanta are Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Harrison. They began their long trip on September 19, 1903, arriving in Atlanta about March 1st of this year.

Their stay in Atlanta of several weeks was as guests of Mayor Howell of that city and the return journey was begun the latter part of March.

Rev. Harrison is a preacher in the Christian church and he and his wife are natives of England. The minister's health failed him and at the time the unique trip was undertaken at his wife's suggestion, for the benefit of his health, he was nearly dead with consumption. His return to health has been complete and his robust figure gives evidence of this fact.

Rev. Harrison while a resident of Liverpool entertained Governor Bishop of Ohio in 1883, on the occasion of the governor's visit there. On the way to Atlanta he was the guest of Mrs. W. T. Moore of Cincinnati, a daughter of Ohio's former executive.

The aged couple live in the wagon which is fitted up in a comfortable home-like manner, including a stove, a library and interesting pictures. The bed by an ingenious arrangement is pulled to the roof of the wagon during the day.

The couple carry with them letters Rev. Harrison while a resident of scrap book containing columns of reading matter from the big city papers, along the route of travel.

They expect to remain in Newark over Sunday and Rev. Mr. Harrison will conduct open air religious meetings. The potato peelers will be sold to defray their expenses.

GRANVILLE NOTES.

Granville, O., July 21.—The remains of Franklin Osburn, an old soldier, who died at the Erie Soldiers' home at Sandusky on Monday, arrived, here on Wednesday, accompanied by Isaac Osburn, of Saginaw, Mich., and Benjamin Osburn, of Chicago, grandsons of the deceased. The interment was made in Maple Grove cemetery. The deceased was the father of the late Prof. Osburn, formerly of the faculty of Denison university.

R. P. Morrison, of Bowling Green, O., is visiting friends in Granville and Newark for a few days.

The members of the Baptist Sunday school and their friends enjoyed a delightful outing and picnic at Idlewilde Park on Wednesday.

Magazines for Sale.

The educational committee has just made up its new list of magazines for the coming year. The same offer, which the past two years has met with such a quick response, is again made by the committee.

MR. STIVERS

Editor of The American-Tribune, Has signed to Accept a Position on State Journal.

Mr. Homer M. Stivers, who came from the Cincinnati Enquirer about a year ago to become editor of the American-Tribune, has resigned, his position, to take effect the last of this week, and will become assistant city editor of the Ohio State Journal. It is said that Mr. John P. Williams, of Columbus, formerly of this city, will succeed Mr. Stivers on the American-Tribune.

Mr. Stivers is a thorough newspaper man, having had splendid training in Cincinnati before he came to Newark. He is keen-witted and has the "nose for news." Mr. Stivers has many friends in Newark who will regret to learn that he has decided to leave town. Mr. Stivers' family for the present, at least, will remain in Newark.

A dispatch from Denver quotes Mr. Buchtel as saying: "I feel that my place is just where I am."

NEEDLE

TRAVELED FROM KNEE TO THIS WOMAN'S HEART.

It Took the Little Bit of Steel Just Ten Years to Complete the Journey.

The following dispatch to The Advocate from Meriden, Conn., recalls that from Meriden, Conn., a few days ago which 'Squire Mauger' had swallowed about 30 years ago when he was a child, was cut out of his hand a few days ago:

Meriden, Conn., July 21.—A carpet needle nearly three inches long, was extracted yesterday from the body of Mrs. Herman Schurer, which had travelled in ten years from her left knee to a spot near her heart.

FOR SALE.

Scientific bedmaking and scrubbing as taught by Miss Marion Talbot, dean of women and professor of housekeeping in her new domestic science school at the University of Chicago, appealed so strongly to three of the midway girls that they invested their fudge money by renting a house and advertised for roomers—"just to see if all of Miss Talbot's theories really work."

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for. Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busy at work. There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp. It will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SAFELY THROUGH MOTHERHOOD WITHOUT PAIN.

What a wonderful message of hope and escape from suffering these words carry to that woman who is dreading the hour that shall proclaim her Motherhood. Perhaps for her it is the first time God has blessed her; with what awe and mystery and fear she contemplates the coming event which even now is casting its shadow before in the way of many painful discomforts. The hope held out in these words simply means that childbirth has been turned into an event of thanksgiving and joy stripped of its agonies and dangers because of the learned skill of man.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is the name of the remedy which means so much to the expectant mother; she can apply it herself and feel an improvement at once which but foretells the pain and suffering which it saves when childbirth takes place. The testimony of Mothers who have used it successfully will simply mean that their words of praise are found in our book, "Motherhood." Send for it.

WEDDINGS.

RICH-WYLY.

On Wednesday evening, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Wyly, about a mile north of Granville, occurred one of the prettiest events of the season, in the marriage of their daughter, Emily T., to Mr. Alpheus A. Rich, of Johnstown.

The beautiful home, "Chestnut Hill," has never looked more lovely than its wealth of floral decorations and green. The large open hall, where the ceremony was held, was transformed into a veritable bower of green, from whose half-shaded depths peeped out bright-hued summer flowers, nasturtiums predominating.

The rooms were early filled with about a hundred invited guests, and at 8 o'clock, the opening strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Vida Shauk, proclaimed the approach of the bridal party. Unattended, they came down the broad open stairs and took their places beneath a great arch of honeysuckle and flowers, and here, in a ceremony touched by one or two features of unusual beauty and solemnity, the Rev. Mr. Lewis of Marion, Ohio, a life-long friend of the bride and her family, pronounced the solemn words joining them together as man and wife. After the many friends present had united in wishing them every happiness in life the guests were conducted to the dining room, which was particularly dainty and charming with its decorations of sweet peas and ferns. Here an elaborate course supper was served.

The bride, a sweet and beautiful girl, looked daintily lovely in her gown of pure white silk, with lace trimmings, and carried a large bouquet of white roses and carnations--which later in the evening was tossed among the guests by the bride and caught by her sister, Miss Lillian Wyly. As a well-known schoolteacher, first in Granville township, later in Pataskala and Granville, Miss Wyly won hosts of friends everywhere by her charming personality and sweet friendliness, graces which will retain all as her friends in the beginning of her new life.

Mr. Rich who is connected with the Ashbrooke-Russler bank in Johnstown, is a young man of recognized worth and ability, which have made him a general favorite and acknowledged leader among his wide circle of acquaintances. His sterling qualities are such as to make him worthy the winning of so sweet a bride. At half past eleven Mr. and Mrs. Rich started for a bridal trip to the lakes, returning from which after August 5 they will be at home at Johnstown, Ohio.

The love and esteem in which the young couple are held was manifested by the splendid gifts, remembrances of their hosts of friends. Particularly attractive among these were the dainty pieces of silver cut-glass, and hand-painted china.

Besides the many invited guests from Granville, were a number from abroad. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Gossage, of Johnstown, Mrs. Gossage being a sister of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Osborne, of Newark, and Mrs. Ketcham, of Condit, sisters of the bride; Mrs. G. A. Wyly, of New Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Russler, Mr. and Mrs. Ashbrooke, of Johnstown; Miss Flora Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. McCracken, of Hartford; Mr. and Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Leland Pearson Miss Evans, of Condit; Mr. Ashbrooke, Miss Hartman, Miss Annon, Miss Headley, Miss Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Fraker, of Pataskala; Miss Beulah Condit, of Jersey; Mrs. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. Shauk, Miss Vida Shauk and Mrs. MacDonald, of Newark.

OLD MAN

On Way From Steubenville to Montana, Is Assisted By Township Trustee Everts.

Annon Love, aged about 70 years, who is on his way from Steubenville to Montana, arrived in the City Thursday and applied to Township Trustee E. D. Everts for assistance. He said that he formerly lived in Montana, but had been promised a situation in Steubenville, but on his arrival in that city found that things had been misrepresented to him and was endeavoring to get back to his old home. Mr. Everts furnished him with transportation as far as Columbus over the interurban. The old man then wanted to know how he was going to get his trunk from the Panhandle station to the interurban station. Mr. Everts told him he would have to get it the best way he could, and in about half an hour the old man was seen coming up the street leading a small dog. He got off for Columbus all right.

UNKNOWN'S SUICIDE

Sickening Sight Discovered by John Good in Weeds Along Creek Bank--Hole Through Head--Paper Dated July 16 Found--Nothing to Identify the Man.

A sickening sight was discovered by John Good Thursday morning in the weeds and underbrush along the creek bank west of the end of Sixth street. It was the almost unrecognizable body of a man whose only semblances to a human form were the clothes and shoes which he wore. The body was in a fearful state of decomposition, parts of the exposed portions, as hands and face, being entirely gone. The body was also as black as a hat, the only reason to suppose it was a white man being the straightness of the hair.

Coroner C. F. Legge and Chief of Police Sheridan were notified and visited the scene and ordered the body taken immediately to Cedar Hill cemetery and buried. It was rolled into a box and taken there by Undertaker McGonagle.

There is absolutely no clue to his identity. He had on a good suit of clothes and a pair of No. 6 Regal shoes. Several dollar bills and some coins were found in his pocket, but not a scrap of paper to indicate who he was.

The unfortunate man had rolled his coat into the form of a pillow and Cincinnati Enquirer was spread out under him.

The paper bore date of Saturday July 6; so that it was after this or during that day that he died. Beside him lay a .38 calibre pistol, and a bullet hole through the head indicated that he had sought this secluded spot and deliberately took his life. A pint bottle of whisky, partly consumed, was also found by his side. A handkerchief neatly folded, and just from the laundry, was found in his pocket marked "J."

As yet there is absolutely no clue as to his identity. Later--A report was in circulation this afternoon that the dead man had been identified by Mr. Thomas Huston as his son, Frank Huston. An Advocate reporter saw Mr. Huston, who said that he had viewed the remains of the dead man, but that he was unable to identify him as his son. He said the fact that the man wore a derby hat leads him to the belief that he is not his son, as he always wore a slouch hat. He said that his son left home on Monday, July 11, to go to Johnstown, where he had secured work, and that he had not heard from him since that time.

BIDS RECEIVED

For the Construction of a Fifteen-Inch Tile Sewer on Pine Street.

At 12 o'clock noon on Thursday sealed bids were opened by Ralph Davis, deputy clerk of the Board of Public Service, in the presence of Director of Public Service James W. Wylie and City Engineer Charles H. Wells, for the construction of a fifteen-inch tile sewer on Pine street. The sewer is to be 2,470 feet in length, running from the Baltimore and Ohio and Panhandle tracks along the above-named street to West Main street. There were four bidders. Two of them were rejected owing to the failure of the bidders to comply with the requirements of law. The bids received were that of Fisher & Knight, of Columbus, whose bid was $150 per lineal foot, and W. S. Pace, of Newcomerstown, whose bid was 77 cents per lineal foot. The contract will probably be let tomorrow.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equalled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Calif., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me, though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Hall's Drug Store.

ON A TRESTLE

When Electric Car Running at High Speed Came Along--Columbus Boys Had Narrow Escape.

Will A. Ireland and T. E. Minshall, both of Columbus, were at Buckeye Lake enjoying the sport of sailing, but unfortunately they missed the last car from the lake and were forced to walk to Hebron.

About half way between Hebron and the park is a long trestle, and when the pair were about in the middle of it they were horrified to see a car approaching them at the rate of about 40 miles an hour.

"Run for your life," each shouted to the other, and away they went. It was soon evident to them that it was no use running, and so they were compelled to climb over the side of the trestle and cling to the ties until the car thundered past.

PICNIC

OF MODERN WOODMEN HELD AT BUCKEYE LAKE.

Thousands From Newark Attended the Event Thursday--Fine Program of Sports at Lake.

It has been known for some days, in fact, ever since the event was first advertised, that the annual picnic given under the auspices of Cedar Camp, Modern Woodmen, would be a success, as everything undertaken by them always proves to be. But these expectations were more than realized in point of numbers, and all attendance records at Buckeye Lake park will probably be broken during the day.

General Manager Harrigan and Superintendent Bontelle of the Buckeye Lake road realized that they would be called upon to handle an immense passenger traffic, and all available equipment was early brought into service. Special cars were used in connection with regulars to form trains of three or four, and from early morning these were run at short intervals, every one being loaded. The specials ran direct to the lake. While this service was taxed to the utmost it was adequate for all purpose of transporting the crowds.

Arriving at the lake hundreds took boats and enjoyed a row, other hundreds sought shady nooks in which to rest and while away the time. Most of those who went in the morning took their lunches and found comfortable spots to eat them.

THE BIG STORE

We never do things by halves. When clearing time comes, we work with the same good will and energy to get the stock reduced, as though the goods were bringing their regular prices. Sometimes the reductions hurt, but then we know it is for the good of the store, just as the surgeon makes a little pain to save a great deal.

Prices going down all along the line; summer clothes and the rule in every department; summer things are hurried out with scant ceremony in the way of prices. The reductions are beginning to tell and the variety is getting less all around. Lots will soon be running short and out and you will have missed your chance. Don't delay if you are interested in bargains and what woman isn't? You will open your eyes mighty wide when you see the extraordinary values we are offering. The Powers-Miller Co.

THE RAILWAYS

A HALF DOZEN B. & O. COAL CARS DERAILED.

Special Train Bearing Soldiers' Passes Through Tonight Enroute West--Local Railway Budget.

An accident occurred in the Baltimore & Ohio yards at an early hour this morning. A number of cars, heavily loaded with coal were being switched on the tracks, when six or seven of them were derailed, and the track was torn up for a considerable distance. A large number of workmen were rushed to the scene and were engaged for several hours in replacing the cars on the tracks, and repairing the damage done.
